

June 10, 2018

Sermon Title: LifeHack #103

Sermon Series: How to Know God's Will

Scripture: Romans 12:1-2

Speakers: Reid Robinette

Before your group study begins, share your first impressions on the message.
Did the message raise any particular questions?

Watch or listen to this week's sermon at <http://www.crossroads140.com/sermons/>

Main Idea: God reveals his will for our lives within the framework of His providential and moral will. The more familiar we become with these "plumb lines" the easier it is for us to determine his personal will for our lives.

June 10, 2018

Each week you will open the Bible and explore the Scripture for the week. While you're there, take a look at the verses that surround your text for the week. As you read, you might want to make a list of observations. Try to put yourself in each of the character's shoes. Make a list of questions you may not have answers to. Ask God what He may be trying to teach you.

My first impression of the passage:

Observations:

Scripture surrounding your text-

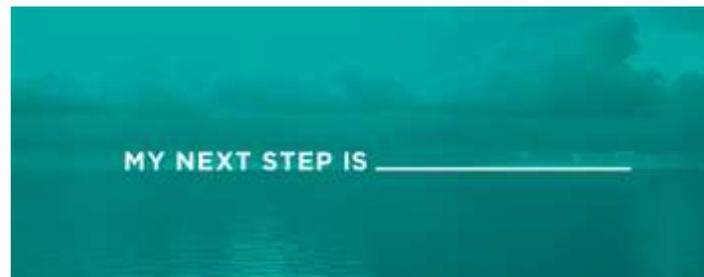

Characters (Who's listening? Who's in the story?) / Setting / Culture-

My Questions:

June 10, 2018

1. Describe the difference between God's providential and moral will. Why are both important for us?
2. How are surrender and freedom both a part of understanding God's will for our lives?
3. Have you experienced either of the realities Reid mentioned regarding God's will? If so how?
 - a. You will rarely feel ready or at peace
 - b. It will more than likely be harder and cost more than you think

1) What is your next step?

Spend time praying in sets of twos in your group

June 10, 2018

Go Deeper

There are free Go Deeper Devotionals available at our Resource Center. The Go Deeper Devotionals will take you through the Bible over a period of three years. There is a commentary for every chapter of the Bible. Reading the commentary will give you some background before reading the scripture text. We encourage you to use the devotionals. Grab as many months as you wish. Share them with your friends, neighbors. Dive into God's word. Psalm 119:105 - You're word is a lamp for my feet, a light on my path.